1. Introduction

The European Data Protection Supervisor shall be chosen from persons whose independence is beyond doubt¹ and that have demonstrated the ability to act with the required independence².

The EDPS' mission as laid down in Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 requires that he/she behaves in accordance with the principles of independence, impartiality, integrity and discretion, both during and after his/her term of office³. In this respect, as also clarified by the Court of Justice, data protection supervisory authorities must enjoy an independence, which allows them to perform their duties free from any external influence, direct or indirect, which is liable to have an effect on their decisions⁴. Thus, ruling out all relevant risks of actual, apparent or potential conflict of interest helps to preserve the Supervisor's independence.

The EDPS Rules of Procedure reaffirm the principle that the Supervisor acts impartially and objectively when performing his/her tasks, guided by high professional standards, integrity, transparency, sound governance and good administration⁵.

This additional policy document, drafted in the form of a Code of Conduct (hereafter "the Code"), builds on best practices particularly from national Data Protection Authorities and of other European institutions (e.g. the Code of Conduct of the Members of the Court of Auditors, the Code of Conduct of the Members of the Court of Justice, the Code of Conduct of the European Commissioners or the Code of Conduct of the European Ombudsman). It also reflects the principles enshrined in the above mentioned Rules of Procedure of the EDPS and the Code of Conduct for the EDPS staff⁶, and high ethical standards of behaviour.

This Code serves as a reference point for our stakeholders and for the general public on the accountability of the Supervisor to integrate ethical insights into his/her daily work as independent regulator and policy advisor in the field of data protection, following the new EU institutional framework and the Lisbon treaty.

² Vacancy notice COM/2019/20036, in O.J. C 135, A/1, 11 April 2019.

³ Article 55 - Independence.

1. The European Data Protection Supervisor shall act with complete independence in performing his or her tasks and exercising his or her powers in accordance with this Regulation.

2. The European Data Protection Supervisor shall, in the performance of his or her tasks and exercise of his or her powers in accordance with this Regulation, remain free from external influence, whether direct or indirect, and shall neither seek nor take instructions from anybody.

3. The European Data Protection Supervisor shall refrain from any action incompatible with his or her duties and shall not, during his or her term of office, engage in any other occupation, whether gainful or not.

4. After his or her term of office, the European Data Protection Supervisor shall behave with integrity and discretion as regards the acceptance of appointments and benefits.

⁵ Article 3 EDPS Rules of Procedure adopted with the EDPS Decision of 17 December 2012, in http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/?qid=1396006447311&uri=CELEX:32013D0504\(03\)).

⁶ Code of conduct in: <https://edpsnet.in.ep.europa.eu/home/latest-news/news-area/new-code-of-conduct-for-staff.html>

Therefore, the objective of this Code of Conduct goes beyond the applicable rules regarding the overall conduct incumbent upon the Supervisor by virtue of his/her office.

2. Meetings and conferences outside the EU institutions

Attendances by the Supervisor at professional meetings with organisations or self-employed individuals outside the EU institutions are published, at a minimum, on the institution's website. Similarly, all conferences in which the Supervisor participates are published on the EDPS website, together with formal speaking notes if any.

The information made public includes the date and location of the meeting or conference, the name of the Supervisor and the name of the representative of the organisation or self-employed individual or the name of the institution or of the organiser of the conference and the subject of the meeting or the conference.

In accordance with Article 5.1.a of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council, personal information related in the previous paragraph will be made public on the basis of a privacy notice sent to the participants at a professional meeting once the meeting has been confirmed.

The professional meetings of the Supervisor with representatives of other EU institutions and bodies and data protection authorities, in his/her supervisory or consultative roles, being intrinsic to their duties and daily work, are registered and available on request.

3. Outside activities during the term of office

The Supervisor devotes himself/herself to the fulfilment of his/her mandate. He/she is mindful of the importance of his/her duties and responsibilities, he/she takes into account the public character of his/her duties and conducts himself/herself in a way that maintains and promotes the public's trust in the EDPS. In particular, when engaging in outside activities, whether professional or private, the Supervisor refrains from any action or behaviour, which might reflect adversely upon the Institution.

The Supervisor may not exercise any political office and may not engage in any other professional activity, whether gainful or not, during the term of office.

The Supervisor may not accept payment for any form of outside activity made during his/her mandate. Should a payment be unavoidable (e.g. for protocol or tax reasons), the money received is declared to the Institution and donated to a charity.

The Supervisor may engage in academic, cultural or scientific activities (such as conferences, courses, lectures, seminars, research groups, scientific committees, etc.) and the publications relating from him/her. He/she may also hold unremunerated honorary posts in foundations or similar bodies⁷ engaged in such activities or in the social, sporting or charitable domains, provided that his/her participation does not significantly impact the performance of his/her duties. Any intellectual property rights resulting from such publications belong to the Supervisor and are declared in Annex 1 if higher than 150 € per year. Should a payment be unavoidable (e.g. for protocol or tax reasons), the income received is declared to the Institution and donated to a charity (reimbursement of expenses is not to be considered as a remuneration).

All such unremunerated activities or posts are listed in the declaration of interests referred to in section 4 below and published on the EDPS website, with particular regard to cases where the institution or organisation in question receives any kind of financing from the EU budget or the workload generated by their participation may significantly impact the performance of his/her duties.

In any case, the Supervisor shall not engage in any managerial or administrative activity, which might compromise his/her, independence or give rise to an actual, potential, or apparent conflict of interests.

4. Conflicts of interest, financial interests and assets and declaration of interests

The Supervisor avoids any situation liable to give rise to a conflict of interest. He/she does not deal with matters in which he/she has any personal interest, which could impair his/her, impartiality. Depending on the circumstances, a personal interest may relate to his/her own interests but also to family relatives, people with whom he/she may have close friendship or manifest enmity or people or organisations with which the Supervisor has been professionally linked up to three years before his/her appointment. If he/she is confronted with a situation that may give rise to a conflict of interest, he/she informs the Management Board and the Ethics Officer.

The Supervisor declares those relevant financial interests or assets, which might create an actual, apparent, or potential, conflict of interest in the performance of his/her duties.

The Supervisor's declaration of interests includes relevant information about past occupational activities, memberships, on-going non-remunerated activities, holdings, and other financial interests.

The Supervisor also declares those relevant professional activities of his/her spouses/partners which may entail a conflict of interest.

The declaration of interests is revised when information changes and at least every year.

The declaration is published on the institution's website. The declaration of interests form is available in annex 1.

5. Missions

The Supervisor makes the most efficient use of the resources made available to him/her for missions and travelling taking also into consideration the speaking engagements policy published in the institution's website⁸.

The EDPS has signed a Service Level Agreement⁹ with the Paymaster's Office of the Commission (PMO) to which many tasks have been outsourced. The Supervisor acts in accordance with the relevant principles in the Code of Conduct for Commissioners and in the EDPS guide for missions which is de facto the same as the guide for Commission officials.

The missions of the Supervisor are published in the institution's website so long as they refer to the attendance of conferences or meetings published in accordance with section 2 of this Code.

6. Representation expenses and hospitality

The Supervisor uses the resources made available for covering the cost of representation and hospitality expenses in the most appropriate, efficient, and transparent way for the purposes of his/her representative functions and in the interests of the institution in accordance with the provisions of the present Code of conduct.

Representation expenses are covered by budget item 2015 "Expenditure in connection with the activities of the institution" of the EDPS budget.

The Supervisor may extend and accept invitations to receptions or events and offer or accept customary hospitality if such engagements are associated and compatible with his/her duties and in the interest of the institution.

The Supervisor shall follow the applicable financial procedure mentioned in annex 2.

7. Gifts

The Supervisor may accept in performing his/her duties protocol gifts of a value up to EUR 150. Exceptionally and by virtue of protocol or courtesy, he/she may accept gifts of a greater value, which are handed over to the institution and become its property.

Gifts offered by the Supervisor should be of a symbolic nature and may not include wine, spirits or tobacco.

⁹ Service-Level Agreement relating to the cooperation between the EDPS and PMO of the European Commission 2015.

The Ethics Officer of the EDPS keeps a list of gifts offered of a value higher than 50 EUR and received. The list, which shall be made available upon request, includes the following information: date, name of person receiving/offering the gift, institution, description, and approximate value.

8. Decorations or honours

Any decoration, prize or honour awarded to the Supervisor should be compatible with his/her public status and should not compromise his/her independence or give rise to an actual, potential, or apparent conflict of interest.

All decorations, prizes or honours are declared to the Management Board and the Ethics Officer and published on the institution's website.

If a prize is accompanied by a financial reward, the full amount is donated to a charity of his/her choice and made public.

9. Post term-of-office activities

After ceasing to hold office, the former Supervisor continue to be fully bound by the duty of integrity, discretion and confidentiality.

Whenever former Supervisor intend to engage in a professional activity or occupation during the three years after he/she has ceased to hold office, he/she shall inform the Management Board beforehand. The Management Board shall assess whether the occupation is in conflict of interest or incompatible with his/her former duties.

In any event, during such a cooling-off period, the Supervisor:

-) may engage in his/her former public office;
-) may engage in a new public office or take up a post in a non-profit organisation, provided that they abstain from any activity in conflict of interest or otherwise incompatible with his/her former duties;
-) may engage in academic activities;
-) may provide advice on ensuring compliance with data protection principles, excluding institutions or private companies that during his/her term of office have been subject to EDPS supervision or directly affected by EDPS decisions;
-) may not be employed by private companies that during his/her term of office have been subject to EDPS supervision or directly affected by EDPS decisions.

10. Information about the obligations of this Code and its application

This code applies to the Supervisor in office as of the date of its adoption. In order to ensure that new Supervisor is aware of his/her legal obligations and expected standards of behaviour resulting from this Code, the Ethics Officer of the EDPS shall communicate the content of this Code to the new Supervisor upon appointment.

The Management Board will intervene on his/her own will or at the request of the Ethics Officer of the EDPS in the way provided in this Code.

When acting as a replacement for the Supervisor or upon delegation, the Director of the EDPS shall observe the requirements of this Code.

ANNEX 2 - Procedure to be followed by the Supervisor for representation expenses

1. Scope of the procedure

The procedure applies to all purchases (restaurant bills, gifts etc.) made by the Supervisor as representation expenses.

The Authorising officers by delegation (AOD) and sub-delegation (AOS), in accordance with the principle of sound financial management, shall be responsible for judging the appropriateness of the purchases made by the Supervisor as well as ensuring compliance with the procedures and legality of the actions undertaken. They shall also ensure that the gifts offered by the Supervisor are consistent with their Code of Conduct and the legal obligations of the persons receiving them.

If the procedure described in point 2 ("Financial steps of the procedure") cannot be followed, an explanatory note signed by the Supervisor should be sent to the Director of the EDPS secretariat. Furthermore, if a particular event does not allow the EDPS to comply with the Financial Regulation, the operational transaction should be included in the "Register of Exceptions", justified and approved before the adoption of corrective measures.

Please note that the explanatory note differs from the "Register of Exceptions"; the explanatory note deals with the EDPS' internal rules whereas the "Register of Exceptions" deals with the Financial Regulation (FR).

2. Financial steps of the procedure

For purchases under EUR 1.000, the representation expenses will be reimbursed upon submission of a reimbursement request according to the following procedure:

- The person in charge¹⁰ collects the supporting documents (invoices, receipts, tickets) and registers the amounts and the nature of the events (i.e. working lunch, coffee, etc.) in a table (see example below).

N°	Date	Nature of the event	External participants	EDPS participants	Amount

¹⁰ The secretary of the Supervisor.

- Four times a year (March, June, September, November) the person in charge prepares a request for reimbursement to the attention of the Head of the HRBA Unit reporting the total amount of the representation expenses for the given period¹¹.
- The request of reimbursement shall include all the supporting documents previously collected as well as the above mentioned table for the concerned period.
- The request for reimbursement, once received by the HRBA, will be registered and processed in ABAC by the finance team within the following 7 working days.
- The reimbursement shall be authorised and paid into the bank account that is currently used to pay the salaries of the Supervisor.
- The table will be stored in a file in the CMS (access restricted to the Records Management Sector). The original supporting documents will be kept in the financial files according to the corresponding archiving rules.

For purchases higher than EUR 1.000 and up to EUR 15.000, Art. 175.1 FR of procurement procedures in general, and Art 137 RAP (tried to find the equivalent in Annex 1 of the new Financial Regulation but without success) on low-value contracts in particular, will apply. Nevertheless, in normal circumstances these purchases will become an event or reception organised by the institution and therefore would not be any more considered as representation expenses.

If this procedure cannot be followed the transaction shall be considered as an exception to the Financial Regulation and therefore recorded in the Register of exceptions duly documented.

¹¹ In exceptional cases, when the amount of a specific expense is considered substantial, the request for reimbursement can be submitted separately.
